New home building in Andover for the six postwar years 1946-1951 reached the very high figure of 633 new family accommodations, according to figures recently compiled by the state planning board.

Present records at the office of Building Inspector Ralph W. Coleman indicate that this year there will be more than the 124 units of 1951, making an outstanding building record for the seven-year period. Andover also had 56 units of public housing built during this time.

The number for the state of Massachusetts for the 1946-51 period is approximately 152,000 new dwellings based upon the building permits issued in 157 cities and towns, and estimates of new dwellings in five towns based upon assessors' records.

As represented by building permits issued for new construction, and not including apartments created through improvements to existing buildings Andover had the following number of new units; 1946 - 56; 1947 - 76; 1948 - 112; 1949 - 135; 1950 - 130; 1951 - 124.

The record for this year up to the end of October is far ahead of a similar period in 1951.

Christmas Lights To Be Turned On Following Parade

Preparations are still being made by merchants of the town to make this coming Christmas program even more attractive than that of last year.

The Christmas lights have been strung across the business section of Main street and the square and the Christmas wreaths have been put in place. Early next week the big Christmas tree will be erected in front of the town hall to be joined, with the lighting decorations.

Plans for the parade to open festivities are still under way. The exact date for the parade is not yet determined although it seems likely now that it will be held about 3:30 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 6 and lead up to the turning on of the lights about 4 p.m.

The parade will be featured with a band and of course there will be Santa Claus in his sleigh drawn by his famous reindeer. Other floats are expected to be entered by several merchants.

The parade will pass through the business district and it is expected that all stores will have their Christmas decorations in place by that time so that they will tie in with the street lighting.

Public Invited To Union Service

The public is invited to attend the annual Thanksgiving day union service sponsored by the Andover Council of Churches to be held at 9 a.m. Thursday in the Baptist church. The service will be over in time for worshippers to attend the football game.

The Rev. John G. Gaskill of the West church will deliver the message and other clergymen of the town will assist in the service.

All primed for their annual Thanksgiving day clash, two ancient gridiron rivals, Punchard and Johnson high schools, will wind up their 1952 seasons here Thursday morning in a series that started in 1911.

Coach Ed Doherty and Assistant Coach Bob McIntyre have the Blue Devils primed for this annual contest and enter the game with a much better season's record than their rivals. A win for Punchard will give the locals the "Little Three" title as they took Methuen a week ago Saturday to the tune of 48 - 0.

Coach George F. Lee has had his squad working diligently in preparation for this contest. During the season the North Andover team has played several games with some of its key players on the sidelines with injuries.

In the series between the teams Punchard has won 23, Johnson has won 8, and three were tied.

As is often the case in these ancient rivalries the preliminary record does not mean too much when the teams get on the playing field. Although Punchard has the better record for the season Johnson is in a position to score an

Korean G. I. R.
to Wage Credit

Veterans of the Korean War receive the same provisions themselves and their families previously applied only to World War II veterans, Miss Virginia of the Lawrence Old Age Veterans Insurance office said. Survivors of men or women who served in the active military services of the United States after July 1947 are eligible at the social security office nearest them for credit on their possible right to all security benefits in whole or in part on the basis of military service rendered by the latest Social Security act. She explained that war service could be credited to the deceased's social security account, giving both insured a credit of benefits they might be entitled to receive, only military service between Sept. 1940 and Dec. 31, 1945, could be counted for social security purposes, but this was extended to military service from 1940, through Dec. 31, 1945, to provide protection for Korean War veterans. The law is applicable, she said, to those who died in military service.

It would be possible, she said, for the widow, or a minor child, or a parent, to receive monetary benefits based on service alone if the service woman had at least 18 months of service between Dec. 31, 1945, and Dec. 31, 1953. It would be possible to combine wage credits with credits earned prior to entry into military service or after discharge. In each case, the problem is to get the credit, and each survivor must prompt in contacting the Social Security office to get full details as to how to get the credit. She said in closing that veterans would not have any action now to have their security credits for military service put on the record. It would be done at the time of the claim or when the claim for benefits is filed. The Lawrence Old Age Veterans Insurance office is at 202 Broadway.

Korean G. I. Rights To Wage Credits

Veterans of the Korean campaign receive the same protection for themselves and their families that was previously applied only to World War II veterans, Miss Vose, manager of the Lawrence Old Age and Survivors Insurance office stated today. Survivors of men or women who served in the active military or naval services of the United States after July 1947 should inquire at the social security field office nearest them for information about their possible rights to social security benefits based in whole or in part on the wage credits for military service now provided for by the latest change in the Social Security act. She explained that wage credits of $160 per each month of military service could be credited in most cases to the deceased veteran's social security account in determining both insured status and amount of benefits the survivors might be entitled to receive. Formerly, only military service between Sept. 1940 and July 1947 could be counted for social security purposes, but this change extending the time for all active military service from Sept. 16, 1940, through Dec. 31, 1953, will provide protection for Korean veterans like that previously afforded World War II veterans. This coverage is applicable, she said, if death occurred either in service or after discharge.

It would be possible, she interpreted, for the widow, or widower, with minor children, or a dependent parent, to receive monthly social security benefits based on military service alone if the serviceman or woman had at least 18 months military service between Sept. 1940 and Dec. 31, 1953. It would also be possible to combine military wage credits with credits for work performed prior to entry into service or after discharge for pay benefits. In each case, she explained, the problem is an individual one, and each survivor should be prompt in contacting her office to get full details as they apply to his case so as not to lose benefits which may be payable.

She said in closing that living veterans would not have to take any action now to have the social security credits for military service put on the record for this would be done at the time of retirement or when the survivors filed claim for benefits.

The Lawrence Old Age and Survivors Insurance office is located at 202 Broadway.

Phillips Academy Opens New Gym

The new Memorial gymnasium at Phillips academy was opened for a preview by the press last week. Erected in honor of the 144 alumni killed in World War II the new building represents a fine combination of joining old facilities with needed new ones. Part of the old Borden gym was retained and remodelled to fit in with the new plant. It will be dedicated in February next year.

Some of the outstanding facilities include a main floor with three parallel basketball courts with folding seats let down from the walls to accommodate 1140; a six-lane swimming pool with underwater window for coach observation plus 250 permanent and 520 folding bleachers; a separate diving pool; five squash courts; exercise room; wrestling room and locker room. Cost of the new building and remodeling of old was $1,195,000.

"The completion of the gymnasium marks the attainment of our goal to provide a physical education program for all of our 740 students," said Headmaster John M. Kemper. "We believe it to be one of the most advanced buildings of its kind in the country."

What's "in the works" at G. E.

130 Years of "Know How" Builds for the Future

IT TAKES LONG-TIME EXPERIENCE TO HELP DEVELOP MOTORS

Add the experience of the four G-E people pictured here and it comes to 130 years of "know how"! And they're just typical of the long-time employees in G. E.'s Small and Medium Motor Department's Model Room where motors of the future are first developed.

Here the ideas, sketches and drawings of the engineers are made into a working model. Here searching examinations and tests of the models are completed before they are released for production at the factory.

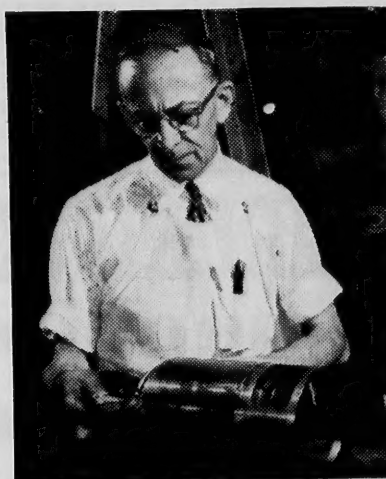

The G-E folks in the Model Room are skilled workmen. They make full use of their own ingenuity. In addition to the technical instructions submitted by the Engineering Department, they build their ideas, their suggestions, their own mechanical "know how" into new products. They help create motors for the future. They help secure jobs for the future . . . two good reasons why "G. E." also stands for "Good Employment."

WALTER AYLES OF PEABODY, with G. E. 37 years, is generally experimenting with new types of windings making sure they will withstand the many tests to which they will be subjected.

"JO" BARRY OF LYNN, with G. E. 28 years, tries out the winding and connecting of new motors and generators to make sure they go together easily when they are put in the factory for production.

LOUIS WEINSTEIN OF LYNN, with G. E. 39 years, makes up tools and devices for the machining and forming of the parts that go into new General Electric motor models.

ARTHUR THORNE OF LYNN, with G. E. 26 years, assembles the models making sure the tolerances and fits are correct and that it is possible to get at the parts for future servicing.

We Give Thanks

Thanksgiving day comes as an annual reminder of the manifold blessings we enjoy in this great land of ours.

This ancient custom — started by grateful Pilgrims back in 1621 when they put aside a day to offer thanks to The Almighty for the bountiful harvest that gave them plentiful supplies for the difficult winter ahead — is sorely needed to emphasize in this material age the many ways in which God has been good to America.

Despite the unpleasantness of Korea and its casualties, communism and corruption in high places, mounting taxes and the continued threat of another World War we still have the right to vote for the candidates of our choice, the right to say what we think and the right to worship as we wish.

We live in a free country, in a land of plenty and of great opportunity. A look at some of the less fortunate spots in the world only serves more forcibly to show how well off we are here.

So, on this Thanksgiving day, we should be filled with a sense of gratitude to those sturdy Pilgrims whose courage and sacrifices have brought us many of the liberties we now enjoy.

So, too, on this festive occasion as we meet in numberless family gatherings we should pause for a moment to dwell upon the many advantages that are ours and with grateful hearts give thanks for the great many blessings that have been bestowed upon us.

Second only to speeding as an accident factor in 1951 was failure to respect the right-of-way.

J. W. Barnard & Son gave each of the married employees a Thanksgiving turkey and the single men $1 each.

Boston & Maine train service was badly disarranged by a heavy fog last night. The train from Boston due here at 6:50 p.m. did not arrive until 7:50 p.m. and so on.

No session of the public schools was held Wednesday on account of the storm.

Only words of commendation were heard Monday night from those who visited the remodeled town house. Town hall on upper floor filled for formal dedication exercises. John N. Cole, chairman of the committee, B. Frank Smith, chairman of the board of selectmen, and the Rev. Frederic Palmer seated on platform, and after prayer by the Rev. Mr. Cole, rector of Christ church, keys were presented to Selectman Smith. Entertainment and dancing followed.

The largest and most fashionable wedding that has taken place in Andover for some time was solemnized the afternoon before Thanksgiving when Miss Genevieve H. Joyce was united in marriage to Frank J. Fahey of New York in St. Augustine's church by the Rev. Charles M. Driscoll, pastor. Large reception followed at "The Croft," home of the bride, after which the couple left on the 9:24 train for Boston. Many out-of-town guests attended.

H. Bradford Lewis suffers fracture of right leg when thrown from buggy while riding to Lawrence last Wednesday morning. Wheels of buggy caught in car tracks as he was turning aside to avoid another vehicle near residence of the Rev. Edward W. Pride.

Work of finishing Elm street after installation of car tracks is in a state that will be a disgrace to the street and the town. It is up to the selectmen to insist at once, we say, that changes be made to complete the work in a satisfactory manner.

Andover's steam fire engine company conducted a most successful dance in remodeled town house Thanksgiving eve. Supper was served in the firehouse at midnight after which the lads and lassies returned for more dancing of the waltz, schottische, two step, galop and quadrille until the strains of "Home Sweet Home" brought the program to a close.

25 Years Ago — November 1927

Punchard wins 18 - 0 from Methuen on Pelham street grounds. The field was in terrible shape after Friday's rain and it was fortunate no injuries resulted from the muddy turf. Walter Batchelor, PHS back, featured the game by his all-around playing and dashes of 20, 28 and 30 yards, setting up two touchdowns.

Union Thanksgiving service held at the South church with the Rev. Newman Matthews of West Parish church preaching the sermon.

Concert by local talent featured annual ball held by firemen Thanksgiving eve.

Hearing held before commissioner at public utilities at Boston on application of the Eastern Mass. St. Ry. Co. for operation of motor buses between Lowell and Lawrence via West Andover and Tewksbury.

NEW BOOKS

Mountains Remain, Tasaki,

A fine picture, developed through the loves of four young people in post-war Japan, of the changes of old patterns of living into the new.

Matador, Conrad.

For those who enjoyed "The Brave Bulls" this picture of action in the ring is equally exciting. In this case it is the conquest of fear as a retired matador, comes face to face with sudden, devastating terror.

Exploration Of Space, Clarke.

Arthur C. Clarke writes of the possibilities, probabilities and the basic facts of interplanetary travel. As chairman of the British Interplanetary society he writes with authority.

Andover people attending the Harvard-Yale game at Cambridge Saturday included Selectman Andrew McTernan, Dr. Malcolm B. McTernan, Malcolm Ruhl of Summer st., Leo Daley, Alfred Souter, Frank L. Cole, Dr. Thomas Kyle, William Poland, Charles Warden, Dr. E. A. Hulme, Eric Hulme, Miss Edith Sweeney and Miss Miriam Sweeney.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Augustus Remington of Newton Centre formerly of Shawsheen, celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary Nov. 20 in their new home.

Community chest drive nears goal of $15,000.

Andover's slippery hills too difficult for traffic yesterday causing long tie-up on hill approaching the railroad bridge on North Main street.

More than 100 parishioners attend roll call supper at Baptist church.

Miss Evelyn Irene Banning elected to succeed Milton C. Blanchard as acting principal of Junior high school as latter enters navy.

Frederick S. Allis of Phillips academy faculty called to duty as ensign in the navy.

The Silver Chalice, Costain,

Basil, an artisan, created a silver chalice, meant to hold the sacred cup from which Christ drank at the last supper. His story makes it possible to bring to life the period just after Christ's crucifixion, with well-known Bible characters thinking, walking and talking through its pages.

Music For Mohini,

Bhattacharya.
A quiet, sensitive novel that was written, without doubt, to create a finer understanding of India and her culture. It is the story of Mohini and her husband working out their marriage together.

Lands Beyond,

DeCamp and Ley.

Written as a series of essays, this is an exploration of the lands famous to the world's legends — Atlantis, the lands of the Odyssey, the lost tribes of Israel, the Sargasso Sea, etc.

Tibetan Sky Lines, Ekvall.

Experiences of the author and his family while they lived as missionaries in northeast Tibet, near the Chinese border. Fascinating!

Who Lived Here? Howe.

Because so many borrowers have enjoyed books about New England houses and the people who lived in them, this is too good a book to be by-passed in the autumn publishing rush. Houses in Cambridge, Concord, Providence, etc. have been included and beautifully illustrated by Samuel Chablain.

Wild Flowers For Your Garden, Hull.

Fine information, although not exactly seasonal, on the fine art of bringing wild flowers, ferns and plants from the woodlands into the home garden. A difficult thing to do, but the author promises good results if her suggestions are followed.

Trees Increase Threat of Fire Over Holidays

The Christmas tree, center of holiday festivities in most American homes, can easily become the center of tragedy, warns the National Board of Fire Underwriters. Because a fir tree is filled with pitch and resin, it is one of the most combustible objects known—and once ignited, it burns so rapidly that it is virtually impossible to extinguish. "Keep Christmas merry," advises the Board. "Follow these safety rules and avoid a fire in your home during the Christmas season."

1. Choose a small tree. It's less dangerous than a large one.
2. Don't set it up until a few days before Christmas. Until then, keep it outdoors.
3. Place it in the coolest part of the house, away from fireplaces or radiators. And don't let it block an exit.
4. Stand it in water, or use a live tree planted in a tub of earth.
5. Never use cotton or paper for decoration on or around the tree.
6. Do not put electric trains under the tree.
7. Use only electric lights, never candles, and see that the wires are not frayed. Be sure the wiring sets for lights you choose are marked as having been inspected by Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc.
8. Provide a switch some distance from the tree for turning tree lights on and off. Don't plug or unplug them beneath the tree.
9. Throw away all gift wrappings as soon as the presents have been opened; don't let them pile up near the tree.
10. Do not leave tree lights burning when no one is home.
11. If needles near the lights turn brown, move the lights.
12. When needles start to fall, take the tree down and discard it.
